NEED TRAFFIC ORDINANCE.
Hayti needs a traffic ordinance, and needs it bad. If it doesn't get one soon and is not enforced there is going to be some serious accident happen in this city some of these days.

There are some thirty-five automobiles in Hayti and close proximity, and with the vast number of automobiles in our sister city, Caruthersville, and the number in the surrounding country, at different times automobiles are so thick on the streets of this city that it is almost unpassable, and one has to watch his chance to cross the streets.

Another and the most important reason is: There is absolutely no system in the parking of the cars. They run on either side of the street, darting here and there, with absolutely no precision. And seldom is any signal given at street crossings and meeting other vehicles. If we are not mistaken there is a law requiring a signal upon passing or meeting. And cars are stopped on either side of the streets headed in almost any direction, and at night without lights. This should be put a stop to at once, else some serious accident may happen.

Another: Accidents will happen, and among the best of drivers, but we do believe there should be an age set for those who drive cars. Don't put babies at the steering wheel. While yet, there are lots of persons at a mature age, and they are just as dangerous as a youngster, and sometimes more so.

We hope the city council will look into the matter and pass an ordinance to this effect. It not only means the safety of some one, but your property as well. Automobilists, as a rule, do not intend to cause damage, but it's the desire to go faster that hurts.

Some Republican leaders are saying that Hughes wrote the Supreme Court opinion upholding the Missouri 2-cent rate law, and pointing to that as evidence that he is progressive. This is all knocked cold by the fact that while Governor of New York he vetoed a 2-cent rate bill passed by the Legislature. As Judge, he was bound to decide the Missouri 2-cent rate case "according to the law and evidence." The evidence on a test showed that Missouri railroads were making money under the 2-cent rate law. As a Judge, he was bound by that showing. Had he been Governor of Missouri at the time the law was passed, he would have vetoed the bill. A Governor, or President, in passing on a bill, is controlled by his own opinions and policies as to the subject covered by the measure. Measured by what he did as Governor on the 2-cent rate bill, the income tax amendment and the election of United States Senators by the people, Hughes is almost as progressive as one William Howard Taft.

We sometimes have people to ask why we did not get such and such item in the Herald. The editor is an old ordinary fellow, and doesn't know as much as you do, and it is up to his friends to give him the news. He likes news as much as money, and that's saying a whole lot. But you see it takes news to get the money, so that's the reason he wants the news. There are lots of news items we do not get each week, and we are sorry for not doing so. But we do not know it. If you have visitors, go visiting, make a business deal, someone dies, someone is born, or anything that makes news, you will delight the editor if you will tell him of the fact. Our office phone is number 94, and our residence phone is number 47. Now, please favor us with that news item.

The new revenue bill passed by the lower House of Congress repeals the stamp tax on notes and deeds. This is right. It doubles the income tax rate, imposes a tax on large inheritances and taxes the profits of munition plants. It is estimated that it will bring in $200,000,000 additional revenue. It also provides a protective duty on the manufacture of dye stuffs, prohibits the dumping of foreign goods on the American market following the close of the war and provides for a tariff commission. It's another piece of high class, progressive legislation for which the Wilson administration has become famous, and without a parallel in the history of the country.

John Swanger has been quoted in the Globe Democrat several times recently as having said in St. Louis speeches that he was opposed to Statewide prohibition and had not promised Shupp and Jones, of the Anti Saloon League, to sign a State-wide bill. Swanger is evidently bidding for brewery support, but this doesn't prevent Shupp and Jones from supporting Pussy-foot John for Governor. The temperance people of this State have noted this, therefore the Shupp and Jones advice as to the Governorship will be rejected.

The Hughes record of opposition to the income tax and the election of United States Senators by the people has dazed the Republican leaders. They had overlooked these extremely weak points in the Hughes record; also his veto of the 2-cent passenger rate law passed by the New York Legislature. These discoveries have taken all the "pep" out of the Republican campaign at its inception. As it is to be a campaign based on criticism and led by the disgruntled, it will never recover sufficiently to get anywhere.

The treasury surplus for the year ending July 1, 1916, reached the magnificent sum of $177,000,000. There was a big increase in the income tax, every cent of which was paid by those able to bear it without feeling the burden. As Hughes opposed the income tax amendment, he would repeal this tax and place the burden on the masses—those least able to bear it. A vote for Hughes is a vote to do that thing. This alone justifies his defeat in November.

Forty Republicans of the House voted for the Democratic bill to increase the revenue and repeal the stamp taxes. Every important piece of legislation enacted under the Wilson administration has received the votes of many of the Republicans of the House and Senate. Still the hue and cry of the Hughes campaign is to be, "Knock everything Wilson has done." A hammer never succeeded. Knockers and croakers are tolerated, but never followed by thoughtful people.

A few days ago, the Republican organs, under the lead of the Globe Democrat, were deploring the fact we were to have war with Mexico, and charging it as the inevitable result of the Wilson policy. Now they are suffering with another and different case of deploring—deploring that we are not to have war. They are so inconsistent and shifting in their criticisms, prophecies and opinions as to be amusing even to a half-wit.

This is the open season for campaign lies. Democratic voters are too intelligent to be stampeded by eleventh hour stories concocted by the would-be political fixers. Vote your sentiments heedless of the mudslingers, and thereby give them the rebuke they deserve.

What has become of the boast of the Republican bosses in this country, save under a high protective tariff and a Republican administration? Has it been canned or tinned?

Let well enough alone and vote for Wilson and Marshall.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore required constitutional treatment. Hayti's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists.
